POWDER COATING

THE MOST COST-EFFECTIVE WAY TO CREATE PRODUCTS

In an ever growing and globalised world, today's manufacturing industry is striving for better operational efficiency, which is why there's a far higher demand by manufacturers for practical, cost-effective solutions. It's the best way to remain competitive, and still create products that appeal to the most demanding consumers.

A LITTLE POWDER CAN GO A LONG WAY

In this highly competitive market, we know you need a little to go a really long way, which is why we've created Reveal Folio. Our range of powder coatings have been engineered with state-of-the-art technology, allowing you to coat more with the same amount of powder, whether this is appliances for the kitchen, oil filters for your car or even light fittings and shelving. The easily applied powder coating has the lowest film thickness, for the highest possible mileage, giving you a consistently good finish and optimal protection for all your products.

FIND YOUR REVEAL FOLIO

Choose from three intuitively designed powder coating solutions that best suit your needs.

REVEAL FOLIO D

Minimises coating thickness, allowing you to increase production efficiency, and meets stringent industry standards for indoor appliances, including refrigerators, freezers, and small kitchen appliances, as well as other industrial applications such as lighting and shelving.

REVEAL FOLIO W

Allows you to increase production efficiency while still meeting the stringent industry standards for appliances exposed to high humidity and detergents, including washing machines, dishwashers and dryers. It could also be used for certain automotive parts including oil and air filters.

REVEAL FOLIO H

Ensures the highest possible output with less powder. It can be applied with standard application equipment and meets the stringent industry standard for appliances exposed to heat, including stoves and ovens.

A WIDE RANGE OF POSSIBILITIES

Reveal Folio is ideal for manufacturers, as it provides a consistently good finish with less powder, meaning the highest possible mileage and a greater reduction in operational costs. Whether it's for kitchen appliances such as refrigerators, washing machines or cookers, or for other industrial uses such as shelving, lighting or automotive oil and air filters, there's a Reveal Folio powder coating solution to help you coat more products for less.

IMPROVING THE WORLD WE SHARE

This product isn't just a step towards protecting your goods, it's a step towards creating a better environment. By choosing Reveal Folio, you'll be joining our GreenSteps programme, on a journey to a greener, more responsible world.
